GREATEST CONTEST EVER CONDUCTED IN WASHINGTON

BELOW is given the names of the contestants who won the seventy-eight prizes of The Washington Herald's Great Voting Contest. It was the original intention to give only seventy-seven prizes, but on account of a controversy having arisen as to the justice of allowing an uncertified check sent in by Mr. Preston Gibson, it was decided that, inasmuch as it was the intention to keep out only those checks which were unacceptable to The Washington Herald, another grand prize was added to the five, and this will go to Mr. Gibson as proof of The Washington Herald's absolute fairness toward all parties concerned. This and the few other questions which arose were settled absolutely satisfactorily to every one interested. The Washington Herald is proud of its great contest, proud of the manner in which it has been conducted, and we heartily congratulate not only the winners, but also those contestants who have made such a gallant fight during the last fourteen weeks, and have demonstrated what honest, earnest effort will do in a race of this or any other kind. The contest will long be remembered for the pleasant acquaintances which have been formed since the opening, the good fellowship which characterized the actions of all the contestants, and the absence of controversy and dispute which was not amicably settled. We thank the contestants, winners and losers, and their friends who have helped to make this contest a magnificent success, and we greatly deplore the fact that there were not enough prizes for all, though this, of course, would have been utterly impossible. The contest has been in the nature of an inventory of The Washington Herald's popularity, and the result justifies the great pride which we feel in the hosts of friends who have so heartily lent their support to a movement intended solely for the purpose of increasing the circulation of The Washington Herald.

AFFIDAVIT OF JUDGES

THE WASHINGTON HERALD.

Gentlemen: We, the undersigned five leading contestants in The Washington Herald's Home Contest, on the 26th day of June having been chosen as the committee of judges to supervise the count and award, testify to having been present at all meetings and having carried out prescribed duties.

The votes cast from the time the ballot box was closed were sealed by us and no person except the full committee has had access to them.

We wish to certify also to the fact that the contest was cleanly conducted and in an excellent manner.

The figures announcing the winners were turned over to you this morning. These figures are as nearly correct as it is possible to make them. All totals were made on adding machines and rechecked to safely guard against mistakes.

No votes have been allowed any contestant except in compliance with the rules. We desire to congratulate you on the system adopted of keeping the records of contestants to be excellent. Very truly yours,

(Rev.) IGNATIUS FEALY, W. L. PIERCE,
WM. H. SANTELMANN, By C. C. MAYER,
E. H. JEMISON,
